

Get the facts about disability insurance.

Facts & Stats

Studies show that a 20-year-old worker has a one-in-four chance of developing a disability before reaching full retirement age.¹ Whether it's an exciting event like a pregnancy or an unexpected challenge like an illness or car accident, a disability can affect your ability to earn income.

Did you know?

Disability insurance is coverage that can help protect your income when you are unable to work due to illness or injury.

Recent studies show that...

55%

of workers say they are living paycheck to paycheck, up from 43% in 2022.²

With simplified enrollment and competitive employee rates, you can get disability coverage to help protect your income for less than the cost of a...

Consider this scenario:

Jeff is diagnosed with an autoimmune disorder, leaving him temporarily paralyzed. While he's unable to work for eight months, his disability insurance pays a percentage of his income each month, allowing him to focus on his recovery without worrying about where his next paycheck would come from.

This is a hypothetical example for illustrative purposes only. Individual experiences may vary.

If you are unable to work due to a disability, you will want to help ensure your family is financially prepared to handle essential living expenses such as:

Mortgage or rent

Car payments

Food

Childcare⁴/
tuition
